Denim Szram (*1990) is a sound and media artist, currently living and working in Basel. His artistic work oscillates between composition, performance, multimedia installations and immersive environments. As an electronic musician, he creates compositions for spaces, dance and theater. He is an expert in the field of 3D audio and uses spatial sound for the acoustic staging of architecture. He expands sound with other media and creates audiovisual systems and musical interfaces to explore new forms of expression.
